FRAMEWORK FOR PACIFIC REGIONALISM REGIONAL INITIATIVE SUBMISSION TEMPLATE 2016

The Framework for Pacific Regionalism

The Framework for Pacific Regionalism represents a high-level commitment to pursuing deeper regionalism and establishes a process for developing and prioritising regional public policy. It articulates the vision, values and objectives of an enhanced Pacific regionalism. It also sets out an inclusive process by which anyone can propose ideas for regional initiatives to address key challenges facing the Pacific. For more information, click here.

3. What is the common regional issue or challenge that this regional initiative aims to address?

You may also want to address the following: What are the causes of this issue? Are there links to national, regional or international goals/policies?

Please limit your response to no more than 750 words.

<The common regional issue or challenge is the issue of human rights and decolonisation across the Pacific region. Countries are at varying stages of developing their self determination and human rights framework. West Papua is the country where the abuse of human rights and the lack of a voice in regional policies and initiatives is in crisis. As a Melanesian country occupied by Indonesia West Papua experiences constant human rights abuses either facilitated or allowed to be conducted with impunity by the Indonesian state. While this situation remains the Pacific nations will continue to experience protest and advocacy by their own citizens and will be witnesses to structural abuses on a fellow Pacific nation. The regional peace and security depends on peaceful transitions from colonial occupation and on the development of authentic human rights. There are many human rights issues within the Pacific nations notably in my own country where the indigenous population continues to suffer the consequences of colonisation, however the level of violence and suppression of human rights in West Papua is a shame on the entire region.;

4. Briefly describe this regional initiative

You may also want to address the following in this section:

How would this initiative contribute to a positive change to the region?

Who are the main beneficiaries?

How would the initiative contribute to the vision, values and objectives of the Framework for Pacific Regionalism?

Has the initiative been carried out previously?

What are the key risks in implementing this initiative?

Are there any complementary projects and programmes that are currently active?

Please limit your response to no more than 750 words.

Status and Human Rights Initiative for West Papua

The initiative involves a recognition of the status of West Papua as a Pacific nation by including the representatives of West Papua in the Pacific Island Forum and commitment by the Forum to lead a human rights investigation in West Papua. The initiative recognises the efforts made by the 2015 Pacific Island Forum on this matter and requests that this effort is reframed with the requirement that a refusal to allow it to proceed by the Indonesian Government would result in their removal from the Pacific Island Forum as observers or associates or any form of membership until such time as they are willing to support it.

Human rights continues to be in crisis in West Papua despite Indonesian rhetoric of increased press freedom and investment for economic development. The West Papuans continue to attest to a wide range of harassment and abuse which has been widely reported in the Pacific region and international organisations such as Amnesty International and Human Rights Watch continue to report on these incidents involving torture, violence and political detention.

Rather than recite an endless list of what is a well known regional shame I suggest that the Forum leaders consider how the regional initiative for West Papua of 2015 can be carried out and address the necessity for real consequences for Indonesia's relationships in the Pacific if they continue to ignore or block the regional desire for independent Pacific based human rights investigation and reporting on West Papua.

5. Why does this initiative require the attention of the Leaders of the Pacific Islands Forum?

Please consider whether this initiative requires the attention and consideration of the Leaders of the Pacific Islands Forum in order to be implemented and outline why this is the case. Could it not be overseen or implemented at the level of Ministers, officials or by a regional agency?

Please limit your response to no more than 750 words.

Given the political sensitivity and the relative power of the parties affected by the human rights abuses in West Papua this matter requires the highest level of the Pacific Island Forum to consider how the situation can be addressed. This is a matter of regional significance being the most egregious example of sustained human rights abuse on a Melanesian population in the region. The history of the issue and the ability of Indonesia to block internal democratic and peaceful efforts by West Papuan to improve their own human rights requires the support of the leaders of the other Pacific nations.

The request that West Papua via the "United Liberation Movement of West Papua" is given status at the Pacific Island Forum would facilitate the Forum leaders receiving the best advice on the situation in West Papua and also would recognise the status of this country at a leadership level.

It also sets out an inclusive process by which anyone can propose ideas for regional initiatives to address key challenges facing the Pacific. For more information, click here.

2. How do I submit a regional initiative?

To submit a regional initiative, complete all sections of the submission template and submit to the Forum Secretariat by no later 5pm, Fiji time, Sunday 10 April 2016.

Submissions must be made on this template. Submissions made directly via email, letter or other format will not be considered.

Delivery of submissions can be made via one of the following

3. Who can submit an initiative?

Any interested stakeholder can submit a regional initiative. This may include individuals, or groups of individuals or organisations, including government, civil society (including church or religious organisations), the private sector, community groups, multilateral agencies and CROP agencies.

4. What information is required?

In completing the regional initiative template, you should:

- a. Identify and seek to respond to issues and challenges that are common to the Pacific region and that could be best addressed through a regional response.
- b. Demonstrate that a high level political decision needs to be made.

This is not a process for seeking endorsement of existing projects or activities. No standing fund exists in which to allocate funds to initiatives that are endorsed. Submissions that consist of projects or initiatives that may be ordinarily carried out under the governance arrangements or work-plan of the submitting organisation are unlikely to be successful.

- c. Demonstrate how the initiative would contribute to one or more of the objectives of the Framework for Pacific Regionalism.

5. What assistance will the Forum Secretariat provide through this process

The Forum Secretariat will provide general advice and suggestions to those making submissions. This advice will include clarifying the information set out in this guideline, such as how initiatives can be completed and submitted; the type and level of information sought; the assessment process; and clarification of the overall process.

6. Assessment process

- Step 1 The Forum Secretariat will collate all submitted initiatives and check them for completeness.
- Step 2 The Forum Secretariat will, in collaboration with CROP agency officials and other experts as required, conduct a first round of assessment of all submitted initiatives using the tests for regional action (see Table 1 below).
- Step 3 The Forum Secretariat will provide all assessed initiatives to the Specialist Sub-Committee on Regionalism (SSCR), which will assess initiatives against the vision, values and objectives set out in the Framework (see Table 2 below). Reports on current regional initiatives under the Framework for Pacific Regionalism that are in progress will also be considered by the SSCR when they assess initiatives.
- Step 4 Based on its assessment of all submissions, the SSCR may recommend a limited number of initiatives to Forum Leaders. Those initiatives recommended to Leaders will be first sent to the Forum Officials Committee for commentary and incorporation on the Leaders' annual meeting agenda. Forum Leaders will then receive the final recommendations of the SSCR and make decisions on these at the annual Forum Leaders Meeting. In 2016 this meeting will take place in the Federated States of Micronesia

Proponents whose initiatives have been selected for Leaders' consideration will be informed of this selection within two weeks of the SSCR's decision. All proponents will be informed in due course of the outcome of their submissions.

7. Leaders' decisions on initiatives

Forum Leaders' decisions on initiatives will be publicly announced through the Forum Leaders' Communique that is issued at the conclusion of the Leaders' meeting. As directed by Leaders, the Forum Secretariat will initiate implementation of the decisions in consultation with the proponent, the proposed implementing agencies, funding partners, and other relevant organisations or stakeholders.

8. Further help and feedback

For further information or guidance or to provide feedback on the process, contact Pacific Regionalism Adviser Joel Nilon at the Forum Secretariat:

Regionalism test	The initiative should meet one of the following criteria at a sub-regional or regional level, in support of national priorities and objectives: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ establish a shared norm or standard▪ establish a common position on an issue▪ deliver a public or quasi-public good which is regional (or sub-regional) in its scope realise economies of scale▪ overcome national capacity constraints▪ complement national governments where they lack capacity to provide national public goods like security or the rule of law▪ facilitate economic or political integration▪ Where benefits accrue sub-regionally, the contribution to broader regionalism should be clear.
Benefit test	The initiative should bring substantial net benefits, as demonstrated by a cost-benefit analysis. The distribution of benefits across countries and across stakeholders within the region should also be considered—particularly with respect to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ The relative costs and benefits for smaller island states (an “SIS test”)▪ How inclusive the proposal is of all stakeholders who might benefit from regionalism.
Political oversight test	The initiative should require the Leaders’ attention and input (as opposed to being within the mandate of Ministers or other governing bodies).
Risk and sustainability test	The initiative should demonstrate a robust risk and sustainability evaluation, be based on a sound implementation plan, be supported by some identified funding, and demonstrate available capacity and experience for successful implementation.
Duplication test	The initiative should not be currently under progress by another organisation or process, and there should be no duplication of effort.
